We provide our clients with innovative, intelligent, comprehensive design and marketing solutions across a wide spectrum of applications and media, helping you realize your business goals. In other words, we put strategy into design.

OVERVIEW_

Jones & Jones Advertising is a multidisciplinary advertising agency helping companies from emerging business to international organizations build brand awareness, acquire new customers and markets, and develop stronger relationships with their audiences. We focus on the areas of branding, and marketing communications across all applications and mediums.

Think of us as an extension of your internal marketing team or as an outsourced marketing department, in either role we are creative problem solvers working to define, create and clarify your brand image and message, enabling you to cut through the marketplace clutter and position your business for long-term success.

 “Everyone loves the new campaign, Thank You!”

PROVEN PROCESS_

Each project is unique, but its success invariably rides on a combination of careful strategic planning and a powerful tactical execution. Based on over a decade of experience and a proven record of client success, Jones & Jones Advertising has developed a methodology that allows for creativity and a customized approach within a carefully planned framework.

Though 4 clearly defined steps, we guide our clients' team in the collaborative process that integrates design, strategy, and technology, providing solutions that are effective and tailored to your organization, solving your immediate challenges, while helping you to achieve your long-term objectives.

■ “From estimate though completion of design, you went above and beyond our expectations”

David Cox, Ph.D.
